MEDIA ADVISORY

Kane County offices to close due to winter storm

In response to the winter storm and potentially dangerous conditions, Kane County Board Chairman Karen McConnaughay and Chief Judge F. Keith Brown have announced that Kane County Government offices and Kane County Courts will close at 2:30 today, Tuesday, February, and remain closed Wednesday, February 2. Only emergency and public safety-related business—such as sheriff's police, emergency communications, and Department of Transportation snow removal—will be conducted on Wednesday.

The Kane County Emergency Operations Center was activated at noon on Tuesday, from which county activities will be coordinated throughout the storm. It is anticipated that county offices and the courts will re-open at their usual times on Thursday, February 3. More information is available by visiting www.countyofkane.org.
